About package:

We know that families want it all when it comes to modern day living. Functional spaces for entertaining and coming together to private areas that cater for every member of the family.

Introducing the Carlson, a home that proves that you can indeed have it all, even on a smaller lot. The central living area of the Carlson can be discovered at the rear of the ground floor, featuring a contemporary style galley kitchen, with large island bench and walk-in pantry, that smartly connects through to the laundry and garage for convenient internal access.

The open plan family and meals areas open up via sliding doors onto the outdoor alfresco, seamlessly integrating the indoor and outdoor living areas.

Ideal for those who work from home, the spacious home office and downstairs bathroom have been mindfully positioned close to the front entrance to separate professional life from the personal.

On the second level of this home, you will find a versatile media/lounge, offering an additional area for relaxation and unwinding away from the central living hub. The remaining three bedrooms each have built-in robes and easy access to the central main bathroom. Overlooking the streetscape is the generous master bedroom that showcases a walk-in robe and ensuite comprising a double vanity.
